

What does a Teen Advisory Board do?

A Teen Advisory Board is a group that meets to help the library plan and create programs tailored to their interests. Members get to have a hands-on role in making the library a more useful and fun place to be.

Teen Advisory Board membership is open to those aged 12 through high school. Members agree to meet once a month to advise and help library staff plan unique programming, or just to discuss what they're reading. Volunteer hours can be earned to be used on college applications or to complete service requirements.

Have a great idea for a program? Know of a great book series that you think the library should carry? The Teen Advisory Board is the place to let us know.

We hope to see you there!

What are the benefits?

- Help create and lead library programming specifically for teenagers.
- Earn volunteer hours that can count towards community service requirements.
- Meet other teens who love to read.
- Suggest great new titles that the library should carry.

How do I join?

Fill out the enclosed application and return it to any branch. The teen librarian will contact you with details about upcoming meetings.

Don't have time to fill out the application, or just want to see what it's about before joining? Feel free to drop in on our meetings!

We just need a little info...
